

HAWAIIAN ANNEXATION

SENATOR MORGAN GIVES HIS VIEWS ON THE SUBJECT

He is Enthusiastic Over the Proposition of Annexation. The Great Importance as a Strategic Point in Case of War—The Commercial Advantages to be Derived—The Population Less Objectionable Than Many we Admit from Europe

Washington, November 18.—Senator Morgan, of Alabama, member of the committee on foreign relations, has reached here on his return from Honolulu, where he went to post himself on the annexation question. For the first time he submitted himself today to an interview on the result of his trip, and said:

"My conclusions, based on my observations, are only a full confirmation of what I had previously believed—that it is our national duty, and will be in every way advantageous to all concerned to annex Hawaii to this country. I have studied the question from the most authentic and reliable sources. The settlement of an outpost of the United States within the tropics and 2,200 miles from our coast challenges the inquiry whether such action is necessary to our national welfare. Our northwestern possessions on the Pacific along the Alaskan archipelago are over 1,000 miles west of Honolulu. This gives us control of practically the entire American coast of the north Pacific.

"The intervention of the British possessions from the straits of Fuca to the southern boundary of Alaska creates a powerful reason for our occupation of Hawaii. Without impugning to Great Britain any other motive than to extend her national policy of commercial conquest it seems very obvious that if she should acquire dominion of Hawaii and open and fortify Pearl harbor, her military fortress at Esquimaux, on the island of Vancouver, co-operating, would cut our coast line in two and would leave us incumbered with a mass of territory in Alaska, whose defense would be almost impossible and the enormous advantage of which would be lost to us. The Vancouver coal fields would give the British navy almost irresistible advantages in war and virtual dominion over commerce in time of peace.

"Beginning with Key West we have annexed the entire Gulf coast to the Rio Grande by purchase of territory, and extending up the Rio Grande across the continent to the Pacific we have annexed all the territory lying to the north of that line and have annexed the entire Pacific coast except the frontage of 600 miles conceded to Great Britain. This rapid and vast expansion has contributed much to civilization and in none of the transactions have we cause for regret. I have no fears of such expansion, especially as to possession in the Pacific in those islands that constitute a part of the geographical and commercial system of the North American continent. There would not be the slightest difficulty in the character, condition or wishes of the 31,000 native people of Hawaii. They are far better adapted to American citizenship than many millions of these whom we have welcomed here from southern Europe and better adapted than the Indians, Mexicans and native Alaskans.

"Except among a few who expect personal favors and advancement from re-establishment of the royal government, the general body of the Hawaiian population will rejoice in the honor, safety, peace and prosperity which annexation will bring.

"Morally and practically, the silent invasion of Hawaii from the Orient (Japan) violates all the declared policy and often expressed purpose of the United States, to protect those people against foreign interference. The islands as a national possession would richly reward us for expenditure of a hundred millions. The annexation would cost us nothing and will not at present excite the open opposition of any nation."

An Object Lesson to Our Calculators

Danville, Va., November 18.—At the second day's session of the Virginia annual conference, Methodist Episcopal church south, Rev. Dr. L. H. Halsey, colored, bishop of the African M. E. church of America, made an eloquent speech. He spoke in the interest of the Payne Institute, an educational institution for colored men and established at Augusta, Ga., by the Southern Methodist church under the auspices of the late Bishop Atticus G. Haygood. The school needs money for enlargement of the buildings, and Bishop Halsey's appeal to the conference was enthusiastically received. The collection was being taken Rev. M. V. Tuder, said: "This scene is an object lesson to our northern brethren in solving the great social and national problem among ourselves."

Bishop Halsey's speech was bright, eloquent and humorous. Among other things he said he believed the institution of slavery was an instrument in the hands of God for the spread of the gospel, and in the mission of the southern negro who has been civilized and Christianized through slavery to Christianize the fatherland, Africa.

When the roll of ministers was called for character examination, charges of gross immorality were preferred against Rev. M. S. Watts, of Middlesex circuit, Rappahannock district. A commission was appointed to try him at this session of the conference.

THE DREYFUS CASE

The Captain's Friends Say It Was a Conspiracy to Blackmail and Bleed Him—His Account of the Scheme

Paris, November 18.—The allegation that Alfred Dreyfus, a former captain of French artillery, was falsely accused and convicted by a court-martial of selling French military plans to the agents of a foreign government continues to be widely discussed in Paris and throughout France. From a person who is in the councils of the family, the correspondent of the Associated Press here learns that their presentation of the prisoner's case to the French government reveals a thrilling romance, in which figures the gang of so-called "journalists" and stock jobbers who beset the late Max Lebaudy, the millionaire conscript. It is claimed that the documents Dreyfus was charged with selling to Germany were never really sold to the agents of that country, but were prepared in imitation of Dreyfus' handwriting for blackmailing, his wife being a wealthy woman and he himself being in good circumstances. The plot, it would further seem, was conceived in 1892, when the wave of Jew baiting swept over Europe. Dreyfus is of Hebrew extraction, and these jacksals of Paris society, casting about for funds determined to "bleed this wealthy Jew."

A beautiful adventuress, whose house was the resort of a number of French officers and foreign diplomats, is said to have acted as the go-between in these shady transactions. By invitation Dreyfus was a frequent visitor to her house. In due course of time the plan for the mobilization of the French army, which had been drawn up in handwriting which cleverly imitated that of Dreyfus, was produced and money was demanded for its surrender.

Dreyfus, however, it is said, refused to pay the sum demanded, knowing that the purchase of the document would be an admission of his guilt, and would furnish ground for future extortion, and being aware that the fact that he had been intimate with this woman, who herself was a party to the plot, would be considered part of the strongest evidence of his guilt.

Continuing, the friend of the Dreyfus family explains that the newspapers whose attacks were concerned in the plot have constantly maintained a war against Dreyfus even up to the present time, and that in consequence the prisoner's wife and family are obliged to keep secluded. Attempts have constantly been made, it is alleged, to extort admissions from them to be used against Dreyfus, and it is also said that advances have been made to Mme. Dreyfus, wife of the prisoner, in behalf of the anti-Dreyfus press, offering to cease all opposition to his release "for a consideration."

Finally, it is said that the plan for the mobilization of the French army, which Dreyfus is said to have sold to the agents of a foreign government, was a comparatively unimportant document, the features of which were in the possession of all foreign governments and was easily fabricated by experts.

Le Soir says that the absence of Mr. Scheurer-Kestner, who has forced the government to reopen the case, from today's meeting of the senate, is the subject of general comment. A report is prevalent that he was summoned this morning by M. Faure who said to him: "The documents in the Dreyfus case have been brought to my notice. I give you my word of honor that they contain irrefutable proofs of guilt. I beg you, therefore, to cease this campaign, by which you are compromising the republic and yourself to no purpose." Mr. Scheurer-Kestner's friends, however, deny this story. Later, a formal contradiction has been given orally to the story put in circulation by Le Soir as to the alleged interview today between M. Faure and M. Scheurer-Kestner.

London, November 19.—A dispatch from Paris to The Daily Mail, says that friends of Dreyfus assert that Count Valsing Esterhazy was assisted in his treason by a surgeon major who has made a full confession.

Weyler Arrives at Corunna

Corunna, Spain, November 18.—The Spanish steamer Montserrat which left Havana on Sunday, October 31st with General Weyler, on board arrived here unexpectedly today. She was not due to arrive here, according to the announcements, until Friday evening. As soon as possible after the steamer was signalled, crowds of people flocked to the harbor from all parts of the city, and a fleet of boats, filled with admirers of General Weyler, started to meet the steamer and escort her to her quay. Craft of every description that the port afforded was chartered to convey individuals, societies and clubs to the Montserrat. A number of deputations went on board the vessel. The commandant of Corunna had a brief interview with the general, simply conveying to him the desire of the queen regent and the government to receive him as speedily as possible at Madrid. General Weyler did not go on shore. He has decided to remain on the Montserrat until she reaches Barcelona, for which port she will sail direct at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning. The fact that there has been no disturbance of any kind whatever.

LIBERATED AT LAST

THE COMPETITOR PRISONERS GIVEN THEIR FREEDOM

The Men Pardoned by the Queen—Turned Over to Consul General Lee—The Matter Kept Secret—Consent in Our Remarks Under the Cushing Protocol thus Avoided—De Lome in Conference With Secretary Day—Deeds Against Exporting Tobacco from Cuba—Revealed

Washington, November 18.—Minister Woodford has telegraphed the state department that the Spanish cabinet has notified him that the queen has pardoned the Competitor prisoners. The state department now announces that the Competitor prisoners were turned over to Consul General Lee last Monday and will be sent by him direct to New York today.

It is not doubted here that the prisoners are liberated on some such conditions as were imposed in the case of former prisoners, that is, that they will not return to Cuba. After their bitter experience in the Cuban jails it is not believed here that the men will be disposed to violate any understanding of this kind to which they may be parties. It is singular that the men should have been for four days in the custody of Consul General Lee, without the fact of their liberation being generally known, but it is supposed that secrecy was observed in order to ensure departure from Havana without exciting trouble from the extreme conservative Spanish faction.

There were four prisoners, namely, Alfredo Laborde, the captain of the Competitor, a native of New Orleans; William Gildea, the mate, generally known as "the Spaniard," a naturalized citizen; Ona Melton, who claims Kansas as his native state, and who went on the Competitor in the capacity of a newspaper correspondent, and Charles Barnett, of British birth, but who claimed the protection of the United States by virtue of his sailing on an American vessel.

The conditions under which the Competitor was captured April 25, 1896, off the Cuban coast while engaged in landing arms for the insurgents, have been often described. The defense of the men was that they were forced into the expedition against their will by the insurgent party aboard the boat. They were tried by a naval court-martial, before which they could make only a poor showing, principally because of their ignorance of the Spanish language, in which the proceedings were conducted, and that their conviction and the imposition of the death sentence was not a matter of surprise. At that point, however, the case assumed diplomatic importance. Our government, through its consul general at Havana, then Ramon Williams; and also through Minister Hannis Taylor at Madrid, interposed an energetic protest against the execution of the sentence, claiming that the men were improperly tried without the guarantees held out in the famous Cushing protocol. This protest caused the removal of the case to the higher judicial authorities at Madrid, by whom a new trial was ordered. The Spanish government, however, did not acquiesce in such a case. To admit that would, in the opinion of the Spanish authorities, greatly stimulate the fitting out of filibustering parties in the United States.

The new trial had been ordered by the Madrid supreme court on the ground of irregularities in the original trial, and because of the concession of the soundness of the objections interposed by the United States officers. It was to have begun last Monday, and it is thought would have resulted in the imposition of the death sentence again. This would have provoked an explosion in this country, according to the anticipations of the department officials, that would have been hardly less violent than the feeling caused by the famous Virginius episode, so it is to them a matter of satisfaction that the Spanish queen has cut the diplomatic tangle by the pardon of the men before the second trial.

Senator Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish minister, had a long conference with Assistant Secretary Day this morning, and it is believed that the Spanish government is voluntarily about to remove another troublesome factor from the field of negotiations in revoking the decree made by Weyler prohibiting the exportation of tobacco from Cuba. This prohibition has worked great hardships upon large American cigar making interests, and up to this time all efforts of the state department to secure ameliorations of the harsh conditions of the decree have been unavailing. The reason set up by General Weyler for the order was the necessity of keeping in Havana the supply of tobacco necessary to run the domestic cigar factories and thus, by giving employment to workmen, keep them from drifting away into the insurgent ranks. It was a matter of the highest importance, and another potent reason was a desire to cripple the Cuban cigar makers in the United States, from whom the insurgents drew funds.

Reports that come to Washington are to the effect that the new crop of tobacco that will be ripe in February next is of excellent quality and amounts to four-fifths of an average crop. Buyers for foreign consumers are already in the field looking over the plantations and it is expected that to facilitate sales the revocation of the decree of prohibition will soon be made.

Havana, November 18.—In pursuance of cable instructions from Spain received yesterday, Captain General Blanco today released from Cuban fortresses Alfredo Laborde, Charles Barnett, Ona Melton and William Gildea, members of the crew of the American schooner Competitor, captured in April, 1896, by the Spanish gunboat Mesagra on a charge of filibustering.

THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT

Annals Report of Secretary Bliss—Pension Claims Unsettled—Indian Affairs—Necropsy—Caval-Recommendations as to Alaska

Washington, November 18.—Secretary of the Interior Bliss, in his annual report made public tonight, submits estimates aggregating $156,532,419 for appropriations by congress for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1899. Discussing pensions he says 200,000 pension claims are awaiting adjudication and it is estimated that 40 or 50 per cent. of these will be finally admitted. If they are rapidly adjudicated they will swell the pension roll from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000. When, however these claims are adjudicated and first payments made thereon, the amount of the pension roll will decrease very rapidly, possibly to $125,000,000 or $130,000,000 the first year.

The total Indian population of the United States, exclusive of the New York Indians and the five civilized tribes, approximates 177,178, located on 177 reservations, which contain approximately 33,404,837 acres.

The secretary says the five tribes have undoubtedly violated in many ways the spirit of their agreement with the United States under which the territory is now held and governed and, while he does not recommend any harsh action, the secretary calls attention of the president and congress to the chaotic condition of affairs of the territory growing out of the several tribe methods of administration. From 200,000 to 250,000 whites, by permission of the Indian government, have settled in the territory, but are merely tenants by sufferance. No government for the Indian territory will be satisfactory until congress shall provide for the establishment of a single uniform system for the entire Indian territory that shall place all its inhabitants in possession of the rights of American citizens.

Speedy action in securing proper legislation for the coming twelfth census is urged; lack of sufficient time in the past two or three enumerations is complained of, and the necessity of many reforms in the way of lessening the bulk of reports and the elimination of several branches of inquiries from the twelfth census either by postponement or transfer to bureaus already in existence is urged.

Concerning Alaska, Secretary Bliss says existing conditions demand a radical change in the laws relating thereto and he recommends that the public land laws be extended to that district, that additional land offices be created and appropriations made to carry them into effect; that the granting of rights of way for railroad, telegraph and telephone lines and the construction of roads and trails be specifically authorized; that provision be made for the incorporation of municipalities, providing for the holding of elections, defining qualifications for voting, and giving such powers as are used and exercised by municipalities elsewhere; that the legal and political status of the native population, which is in doubt, be determined, that citizenship be extended to the Metlakatla Indians who emigrated from British Columbia and, under authority of an act of congress approved March 3rd, 1891, now occupy Annette Island; that complete territorial government be authorized and established and that representation in congress be granted.

Work on the Nicaragua canal is still suspended and the company reports liabilities consisting of the amounts still due under the concessions to the company, of $6,705,000 of bonds and not exceeding $100,000 of cash liabilities outstanding unpaid; assets, unused capital and stock $318,500 first mortgage bonds and the 2,420 shares of capital stock, received in liquidation, the concessions, rights, privileges, franchises, etc., while it now owns plant, improvements, lands, railways, supplies and other property in Central America, including the land between the lake and the Pacific.

A Demon

Contagious Blood Poison is cutting down human beings by the thousand.

It is an awful affliction. Doctors have all sorts of theories about it that they learned at college, but they fail miserably when they try to cure it. Every sufferer should know, before he seeks professional help, that he will be given mercury and other poisons, which never did, never will and never can effect a cure.

He should know that Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) is purely vegetable and is his only hope. It will go to the root of the trouble and purify the blood—make it rich, red and healthy—stop the eating sores forever—stop the hair from falling out—drive the terrible disease completely away.

A Fatal Train Wreck

Huntington, W. Va., November 18.—In a freight wreck twenty miles south, on the Norfolk and Western railroad, Ben E. Myers, engineer of Kenova, was covered by debris, which caught fire. He was so badly burned that he will die. Three others were injured, but not fatally.

STATE PENSIONERS

THE ROLL FOR THIS YEAR COMPLETED BY STATE AUDITOR

The Troops Paid for Guarding John Evans, A Heavy Frost. Roll on to the main chairman of the Republican Executive Committee—R. M. Furman to be Editor of Raleigh's New Paper The Question of Commuting the Sentence of John Evans

Messenger Bureau.

Raleigh, N. C., November 18.

The state auditor today completed the pension roll. There are 122 first-class pensioners, a decrease of 8 as compared with last year; 243 second-class, an increase of 3; 367 third-class, an increase of 15; 1,902 fourth-class, an increase of 58; 2,739 widows, a decrease of 19; total pensioners this year 5,372. As yet the amount which will be paid each class is not known, as the returns of last year's taxes are not yet all in hand.

The late legislature made an appropriation of $500 to the negro normal school at Elizabeth City for 1897, conditioned upon its raising $1,500. It did this and today the state sent it the money.

The Maxton and Raleigh companies were paid today by the state for the tours of guard duty at Rockingham. Maxton $240.95, Raleigh $119.25. The Maxton company was on duty twice.

There was an exceedingly heavy frost and some ice here today. The air is very dry. Streams are low and are again falling.

Republican State Chairman Holton says that under the new election law he does not forfeit the office of state republican chairman because he is United States attorney of the Western district. He says the supervisor of elections is no longer a sworn officer.

There is a rumor here that Robert M. Furman, so widely known as a zealous democrat and strong writer, is to be the editor of the new morning daily in this city. The paper will probably make its first appearance next week. Its large press is now being put in.

Last summer there were a number of idle printers in this city; now there are said to be none. One establishment employs thirty-five.

It is learned at the executive department that there is as yet nothing officially before the governor in the case of John Evans. Certain rules are to be followed in regard to applications for pardon, but in the matter of reprieves and commutations the law does

The Eastern Field Trials

Charlotte, N. C., November 18.—A special observer from Newton, says: The day's programme in the field sports began with the third series in the all age stake. In this series were included only two brace—Count Gloucester and Anna Abbottsford. Cincinnatus Pride and Elgin's Dash. The judges announced the winners as follows: First, Count Gloucester, owned by P. Lorrard, Jr., and handled by C. Tucker; second, Anna Abbottsford, owned by Edward A. Burdette, of Chicago, and handled by George W. Thacker; third, Elgin's Dash, entered by D. E. Rose, agent, and handled by him. The subscription stake came next and in this were started twelve dogs braced as follows: Tippecanoe and Lady Grace and Toney's Gale; Elgin's Dash and Zeb; Count Gloucester and Sarsfield; Anna Abbottsford and Marie's Sport; Cincinnatus Pride and Young Rip Rap. In this subscription stake two hour heats are run. It will not be concluded before tomorrow evening and possibly not until Saturday morning. This will probably conclude the eastern field trials for this season.
